

Is Your Valuable Home Protected?

Your home is one of your most valuable possessions. It contains all your belongings, memories and comforts.

It makes sense then, that ensuring it is fully secure is one of the most important things you can do.

We know that despite the best security protection measures that we put in place, there is still the risk of theft, damage and natural disasters occurring that we can never fully eliminate. These things can impact our lives and destroy our homes in more ways than one. To protect your home should any of these issues occur, you'll need home insurance.

5 Reason Why You Should Get House Insurance

1. Protect from Loss caused by Natural Disasters

These days, we hear about devastating natural disasters on the news all too often. If a natural disaster such as flood, windstorm occurs, you will have protection from catastrophic loss.

2. Protect from Loss caused by Theft

Homeowners insurance offers protection against damage caused by theft, whether it be damage to the structure of the house itself, damage to the contents, or theft of the contents.

3. Liability Coverage

House insurance also cover the owner liability against Third Party Bodily Injury or Property Damage occurs within your insured property. The coverage pays for legal fees, medical bills, and material damage caused by the accident occurring on your property.

4. Required by you Mortgage Lender

Many mortgage lenders, including banks, will not grant a home loan unless the property owner has homeowners insurance.

Logically, the lender also wants to protect the investment.

5. Peace of Mind

When you are struggling to pay your mortgage, paying for peace of mind sounds like a luxury you can't afford. But when it comes to house insurance, peace of mind is worth every penny. You can hope disaster never strikes, but knowing that your most valuable asset is protected in the event that a crisis hits is well worth the expense.

Insure your home against every kind of natural and man-made calamities today to assure yourself and your family of a secured future.
