

The Importance of Senior Care Insurance

With advances in medical technology and pharmaceutical solutions, people are living longer than ever.

According to research, the number of senior citizens in Malaysia is projected to double to 5.8 million, or 15.3% of the total population in the next 12 years.

“Malaysia is rapidly heading towards an aging society by jumping two-fold from 7% to 14% in 28 years, compared to Sweden where it took 112 years to reach the same level,” Women, Family and Community Development Minister Datuk Seri Rohani Abdul Karim said.

Access to quality healthcare aids in promoting longevity, and as people get older, the need for quality seniors' health insurance grows. When shopping for health insurance, senior citizens have a number of options; but finding the right coverage can be tricky.
